What is it?

Matching the right person with the right job or career can have a significant impact on both employee and employer. For the employee, finding the right person-career match can drastically affect his/her income, social status, friends, family life, job and general life satisfaction. For the employer, appropriately matching employees with the job they will be performing can lead to increased job satisfaction, morale and overall productivity.

The process of determining the most appropriate person-career fit begins with an assessment of the individual. In order to begin to understand the individual and to determine the best career match, personal interests need to be assessed.
